Sallie Mae, the nation's saving, planning, and paying for college company, prepared Majoring in Money: How American College Students Manage Their Finances in conjunction with Ipsos, the world's third-largest market research company. This study reports the results of 800 online interviews Ipsos conducted in December 2015 of people between the ages of 18 and 24 who were enrolled in college at the time of the interview. The survey sample reflected a cross-section of key demographic variables.

Sallie Mae, the Sallie Mae Logo and other Sallie Mae names and logos are service marks or registered service marks of Sallie Mae Bank or its subsidiaries. All other names and logos used are the trademarks or service marks of their respective owners. SLM Corporation and its subsidiaries, including Sallie Mae Bank, are not sponsored by or agencies of the United States of America. ©2016 Sallie Mae Bank. All rights reserved.

Read the complete report at SallieMae.com/MajoringInMoney.

Highlights from the national study by Sallie Mae® and Ipsos. Join the conversation on Twitter using #MajoringInMoney.

Sallie Mae, the nation's saving, planning, and paying for college company, prepared Majoring in Money: How American College Students Manage Their Finances in conjunction with Ipsos, the world's third-largest market research company. This study reports the results of 800 online interviews Ipsos conducted in December 2015 of people between the ages of 18 and 24 who were enrolled in college at the time of the interview. The survey sample reflected a cross-section of key demographic variables.